Let's take a look into some of the many classrooms of SHS.

Phobias. Be. Afraid.

Students throughout Stoughton High have many different fears. Spiders, snakes, and death are very common. Many students have very strange phobias like cream cheese and ostriches.

Top: Tara Koelsch is afraid of not being able to see. Middle: Deirdre Wolfe is terrified of heights. Bottom: Arachnophobia anyone? Amanda Fernandes backs away at the sight of a spider.

Are You Afraid of the Dark?

Common Phobias

Altophobia- Fear of Heights
Ophidiophobia- Fear of Snakes
Emetophobia- Fear of Vomiting
Galephobia- Fear of Sharks
Aviatophobia- Fear of Flying
Necrophobia- Fear of Dying
Belomophobia- Fear of Needles
Phobophobias- Fear of Phobias

Bottom Left: The sound of someone scratching thier skin freaks out Jessica Cinquegrano.
Bottom Right: Just the sound of vomiting makes Tyler Murphy want to throw up!

Senior Year...
It's all about more; more pressure, more fun, more responsiblity and more freedom. This is the year when everyone expects more. We have it in us to meet and exceed these expectations. We are competitors, achievers, dreamers, thinkers, and leaders. More importantly, we are role models and friends. We are more then just a senior class, we are The Class of 2006.

There are places I'll remember
All my life though some have changed
Some forever not for better
Some have gone and some remain
All these places have their moments
. . . In my life I've loved them all

're breaking and rebuilding and we're growing, always guessing er knowing
're shocking but we're nothing
're just moments, we're clever but we're clueless
're just human, amusing but confusing

You can understand and relate to most people better if you look at them - - no matter how old or impressive they may be - - as if they are children. For most of us never really grow up or mature all that much - - we simply grow taller. O, to be sure, we laugh less and play less and wear uncomfortable disguises like adults, but beneath the costume is a child we always are, whose needs are simply, whose daily life is still best discribed by fairy tales.

Junior Year...
It is said to be the hardest of your four years at high school. Its a lot of work, trying to be the best, get the best grades, the best scores, the best chance to get into the best school, but all the work will soon pay off. Junior year is also the year when you will realize that its almost over. Enjoy it while it lasts and when its over, you will have these pictures and your memories to look back on. This is your junior year.

CLAIRE E. MCCARTHY
SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Dear Members of the Class of 2006,

As your high school career comes to an end, it is a very exciting time in your life. You are closing one chapter and opening another. The new chapter is only limited by your imagination and your ambition. I hope that you will fondly remember your years here. Thinking back over the years, I bet you have lots of great stories to tell.

This is transition time. Your years of formal schooling are ending. You now will move on to higher education or the military or the world of work. I wish you much success in whatever you choose to do. Set your sights high for yourself. Don't be afraid to tackle challenges that look beyond you. Take what you've learned and use it to your advantage.

All of the teachers and the administrators who have worked with you expect great things from you. You are talented and should use that talent to make the world a better place. You've challenged your teachers to help you to be all that you can be. From this point forward, be confident that you have the knowledge and skills to distinguish yourself in whatever endeavor you're involved in. The Stoughton Public Schools are always here for you and care very much about your success.

On behalf of the Stoughton Public Schools, I want to take this opportunity to recognize you for the many contributions that you have made to our schools and to the community at large. I look forward to hearing about your accomplishments and your success individually and collectively!!

Sincerely,

Members of the Class of 2006:

Congratulations. Your graduation from high school is a milestone of your life. On behalf of the high school administration I thank you for all that you have contributed to Stoughton High. This year's senior class contains many true leaders. Every facet of life in this school has been positively impacted by the seniors. I have been with you at extra-curricular activities, musical, athletic, charity events, and others. You have shown the community of Stoughton that our high school students are fine representatives of their generation.

I hope your memories of Stoughton High School are positive, and that the skills and knowledge you have acquired here serve you well in the future. I encourage you that learning does not end with graduation, but rather the foundations of learning have been established. You can begin building on that foundation now.

Most of all, I thank the members of the senior class for making my job easier and more enjoyable. You always made me feel like we were working together to make Stoughton High School a better place. I have seen the way you welcome newcomers and genuinely care for one another and I appreciate that. Statistics do not measure the "feel" of the school, but we know how well people are treated here. Your leadership in that regard has gone a long way toward making it happen.

Good luck in all your endeavors. I wish you a happy, healthy, and successful future.

Best of luck,

Philip Iacobacci, Principal

STOUGHTON SCHOOL COMMITTEE
232 PEARL STREET
STOUGHTON, MASSACHUSETTS 02072
(617) 344-4000
FAX (617) 344-3789

Dear Members of the Class of 2006,

Congratulations upon your graduation from Stoughton High School! I know that I speak for all past and present members of the Stoughton Public Schools' community when I say it has been both a pleasure and a privilege to be a part of your educational evolution from wide-eyed kindergarteners to accomplished young adults. You have participated in so many endeavors, from the classroom to the athletic field to the stage and the TV Studio and to the community as a whole. Many of these activities are well depicted in this Yearbook and are too numerous for me to list here.

But your true success, both individually and as a class, cannot be measured simply by grades, trophies or test results, or by any tangible means. Rather, it is measured by stories of students demonstrating persistence in mastering knowledge and skills when such mastery does not come easily; accounts of students' service to the school community, as well as the community at large--service undertaken to make our world a better place; and testimony about your good character, sportsmanship and citizenship. Each of you, in your own way, has contributed something positive to the Stoughton High School community; and when you walk across the stage at graduation and receive your diploma, take a moment to acknowledge to yourself about what you have accomplished at, and contributed to, Stoughton High School. Feel proud, and know that we will miss you. And then, at some point during the ongoing graduation celebrations, take some time to thank those people--your parents, family, teachers and friends, who encouraged and pushed you. For without their support, you would not be who you are.

Keep in mind that graduation is often bittersweet. Your graduation is a celebration of your accomplishments and an acknowledgement that you are now adults. But it is also an ending—an ending of a significant stage of your life. Your daily routine will change—no longer will you have to be in school at 7:30 a.m. Friendships may change or drift apart. You may have seen several of your classmates almost every school day for the last thirteen years, and you may not see some of them again for a very long time. But then remember that graduations are also called "commencements" for a very special reason. For while graduation marks an ending, commencement marks a beginning. While your time at Stoughton High School is ending, your adventure that is called life is only beginning. On behalf of the entire School Committee, I wish each and every one of you adventures that are full of joy, happiness, health, success and love. And remember that, wherever your paths may lead, the Stoughton school community is proud of you and will remember you fondly.

Very truly yours,

Carolyn J. Campbell, Chair

The Stotonian staff would like to dedicate this book to:

Elissa Selig
1955-2005

"There isn't a day that goes by that I don't think of my friend and colleague of fifteen years. Her presence is so missed."
- Jan Parker

"...She was the Willie Mays of administrative assistants. For those of you who are uninitiated, Willie Mays is, in my opinion, the greatest all-around baseball player who ever lived. If Willie knew Elissa, he'd be pleased to be called the Elissa Selig of baseball players. Elissa was so extraordinary, in every way, that I truly don't have the vocabulary to describe her attributes."
-Dr. Dan Davis

"...She was an angel here on earth. I served as Mark Selig's Guidance Conselor for his senior year, and I give Elissa credit for raising such an honest, hardworking, kind young man. She demonstrated these qualities every day, and her example wore off on those around her. In the year I knew her, I never heard Elissa speak unkindly of anyone. She was calm during hectic times and gentle to those who were harried. She was a blessing to me as I adjusted to SHS."
-Barbara Meyer

"In the office she was always capable of injecting just enough humor to relax a stressful situation and she was a terrific sounding boarding-- able to just listen, listen, and listen some more. What a wonderful person that Elissa Selig!"
-Christine Carr

"Elissa was often my sanity source in a hectic day, a smart and witty woman with a warm broad smile, an understanding nod and always, always, a piece of chocolate when I needed it most...She had deep nurturing instincts and shared them generously. Elissa had an extraordinary talent to make everyone feel special and appreciated. I will miss her, as will all of us here at SHS."
-Marilyn Berman

Shortly before the begining of this school year, Stoughton High School lost a beloved member of its staff. Elissa Selig was the secretary for our principal, Mr. Iacobacci. She was a caring, loving person and was adored by everyone who knew her. We miss her dearly and hope this is a peaceful reminder of her and the impact she had on all of our lives.

December 12, 2005

The 2006 Stoughton High School yearbook could not be dedicated to a finer individual than Elissa Selig. Mrs. Selig was my secretary, and previously she was the secretary of Dr. Davis. I am very happy to write about her, but it is difficult to put into words what she meant to the people around her. I knew Elissa and her family for quite a while, since I taught her older son, David, algebra II, and I worked on several school projects with Mark, who graduated in 2005. Both of her sons, now at the University of Maryland, are a tribute to her and her husband, Jay.

When someone is selected for a position such as the principalship of a high school they must rely on the skills of the people around them to be successful. I am fortunate that, when I became principal, Elissa Selig was my secretary. She had a way of anticipating (and usually solving) problems that made the principal's job easier. Always ready to greet people with that warm smile of hers, Mrs. Selig would remind me of what had to be done. Like a knuckleball pitcher and his favorite catcher, no matter how much my directions fluttered, Elissa Selig was able to handle them. She was especially skilled in knowing the difference between a big problem and a small one, what was and wasn't a crisis, and which things needed immediate attention and which ones could wait.

I think of Elissa often, and I remain in touch with her family. Her husband Jay is a true gentleman, her sons are on their way to successful futures, and I know Elissa is somewhere smiling warmly, knowing she left a mark on the people who knew her.

Philip J. Iacobacci

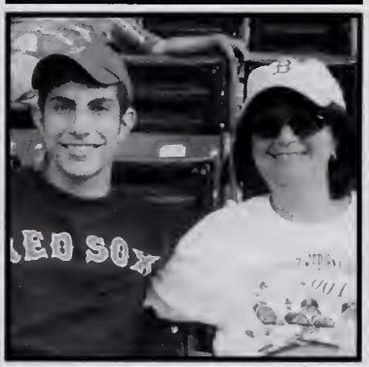

"Elissa made the best chocolate-covered strawberries! It was so nice of her to bring those into the office for us, but it wasn't a big deal to her. That's just the kind of person she was."
-Jill Mackay

"Like crystal amethyst
Whose rich purples reflect depth and complexity,
Elissa Selig was a gem."
-Ruth Weiner

...She was ever helpful and compassionate whenever the large staff needed something 'yesterday'. She was even humble whenever I tooted the horn of her son Mark's accomplishments. Godspeed."
Joseph Bridgeforth

We thank Elissa for all of her efforts on behalf of Stoughton High School and all of her unending courage in dealing with her illness. She was an inspiration to us and we are better for having known her."
Sue Rockwood

She made it a point to know everyone, have a kind word for everyone, be a compassionate listener and never ever complain when the job became burdensome; his attitude prevailed even in her darkest last days here. She was an extraordinary woman and an inspiration to me and many others I'm sure."

Messages from your family members are extremely special. They are something that helps you look at and reflect on how your family has been with you throughout everything. Then too, you still have your friends. Friends that you share amazing memories with from long ago and for forever.

Kimberly Lynne Parsons

Yesterday is but a dream, and tomorrow is only a vision, but today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope.

Nick,

I don't know where the last 18 years have gone it seems like yesterday you were getting ready to conquer the next soccer team and to-day I turn around and you are getting ready to conquer the world! I am so proud of the young man that you have grown into. I look forward to the next 18 years watching you continue to grow in body and mind, I have to say I do miss that little boy with the spaghetti all over his face.

May your dreams be fulfilled and life carry you there without too many bumps in the road. You will forever be my little boy. Good Luck.

Love you always and forever,

The UPS Store™

Jeffrey Pickette

Here are some words of wisdom to take with you as you embark on this new adventure in the next chapter of your life:

"Childhood is what you spend the rest of your life trying to overcome... Beginnings are scary, endings are usually sad, but it's the middle that counts the most. Try to remember that when you find yourself at a new beginning. Just give hope a chance to float up. And it will..."

Just remember all roads lead to home - if you want them to. Trust in yourself to be your best and don't be afraid to take chances. We love you and always will,
Mom, Dad, and Samantha

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

"Shoot for the moon. Even if you miss, you'll land among the stars."

"Do not follow where the path may lead. Go, instead, where there is no path and leave a trail."

"You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself any direction you choose...
So be sure when you step.
Step with care and great tact and remember that Life's a Great Balancing Act..."

Kristen Prudden & Steven Overko

Kristen,
As a baby you falteringly took your first steps.
As a child, with much uncertainty, you started school.
As a teen, with some hesitation, you entered high school.
As a young adult, you confidently have completed high school.
Now, self-assuredly go out and conquer the rest of your life!
Congratulations and good luck. We are very proud of you.
We love you. Mom, Dad, Ash and Josh

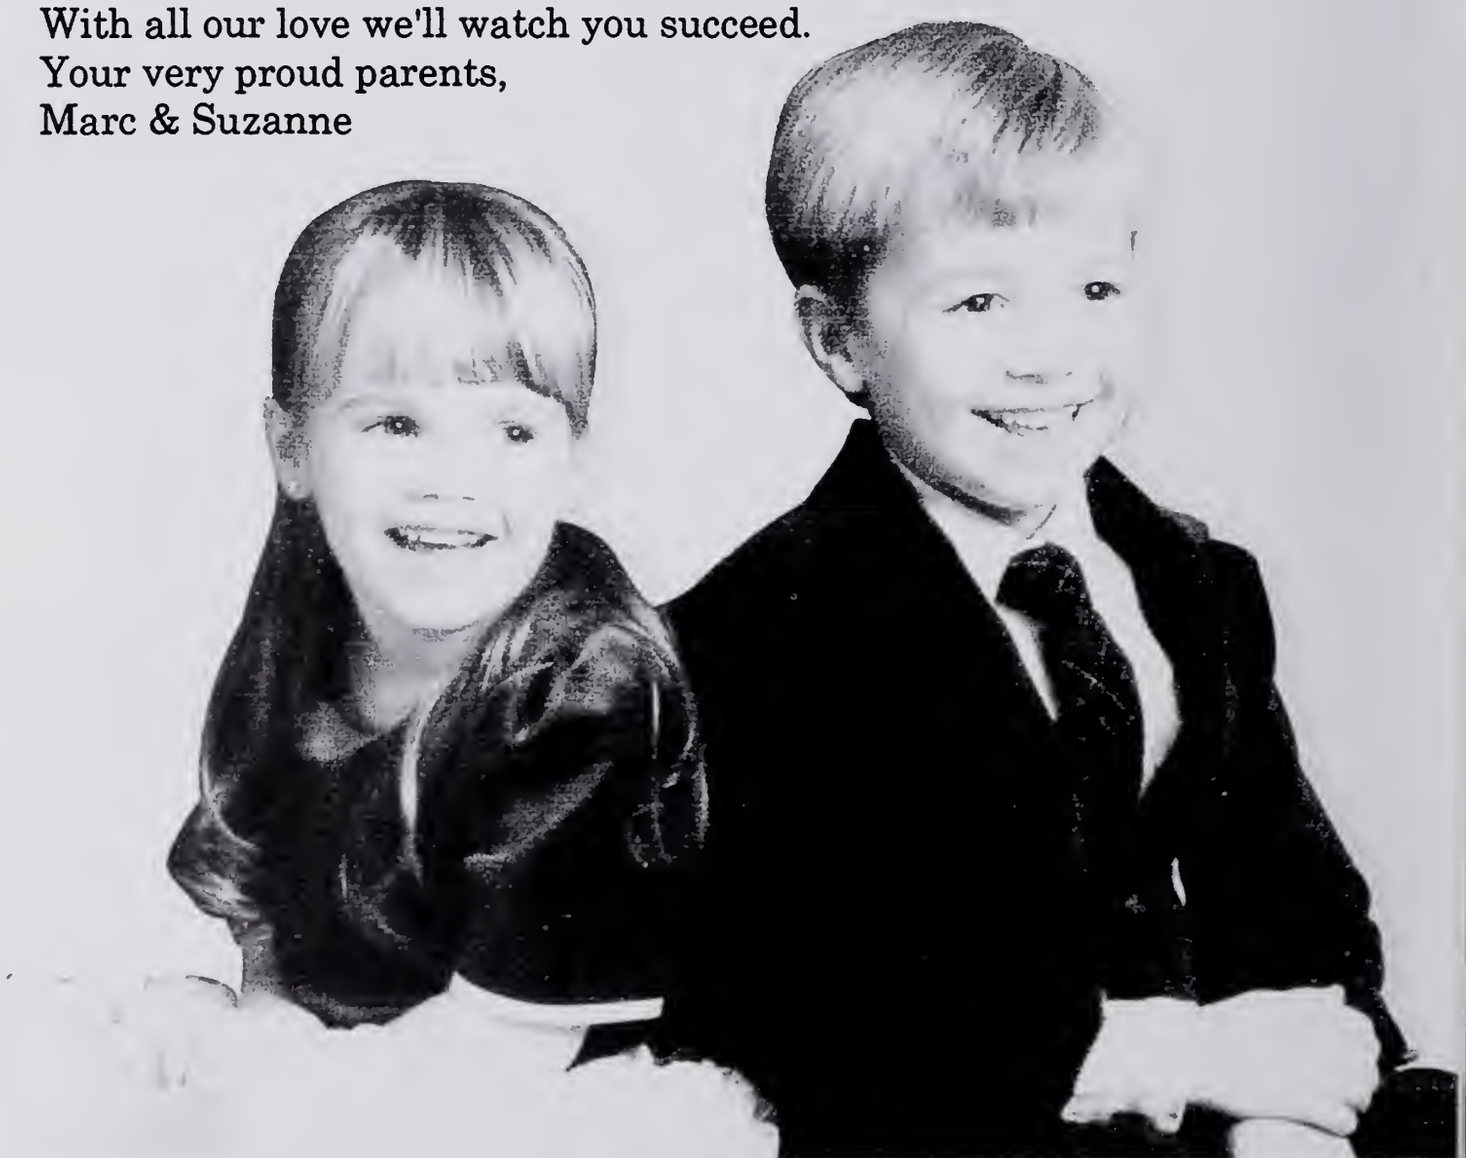

Steven,

Congratulations and good luck with your future endeavors. We are very proud of you and all you have accomplished.

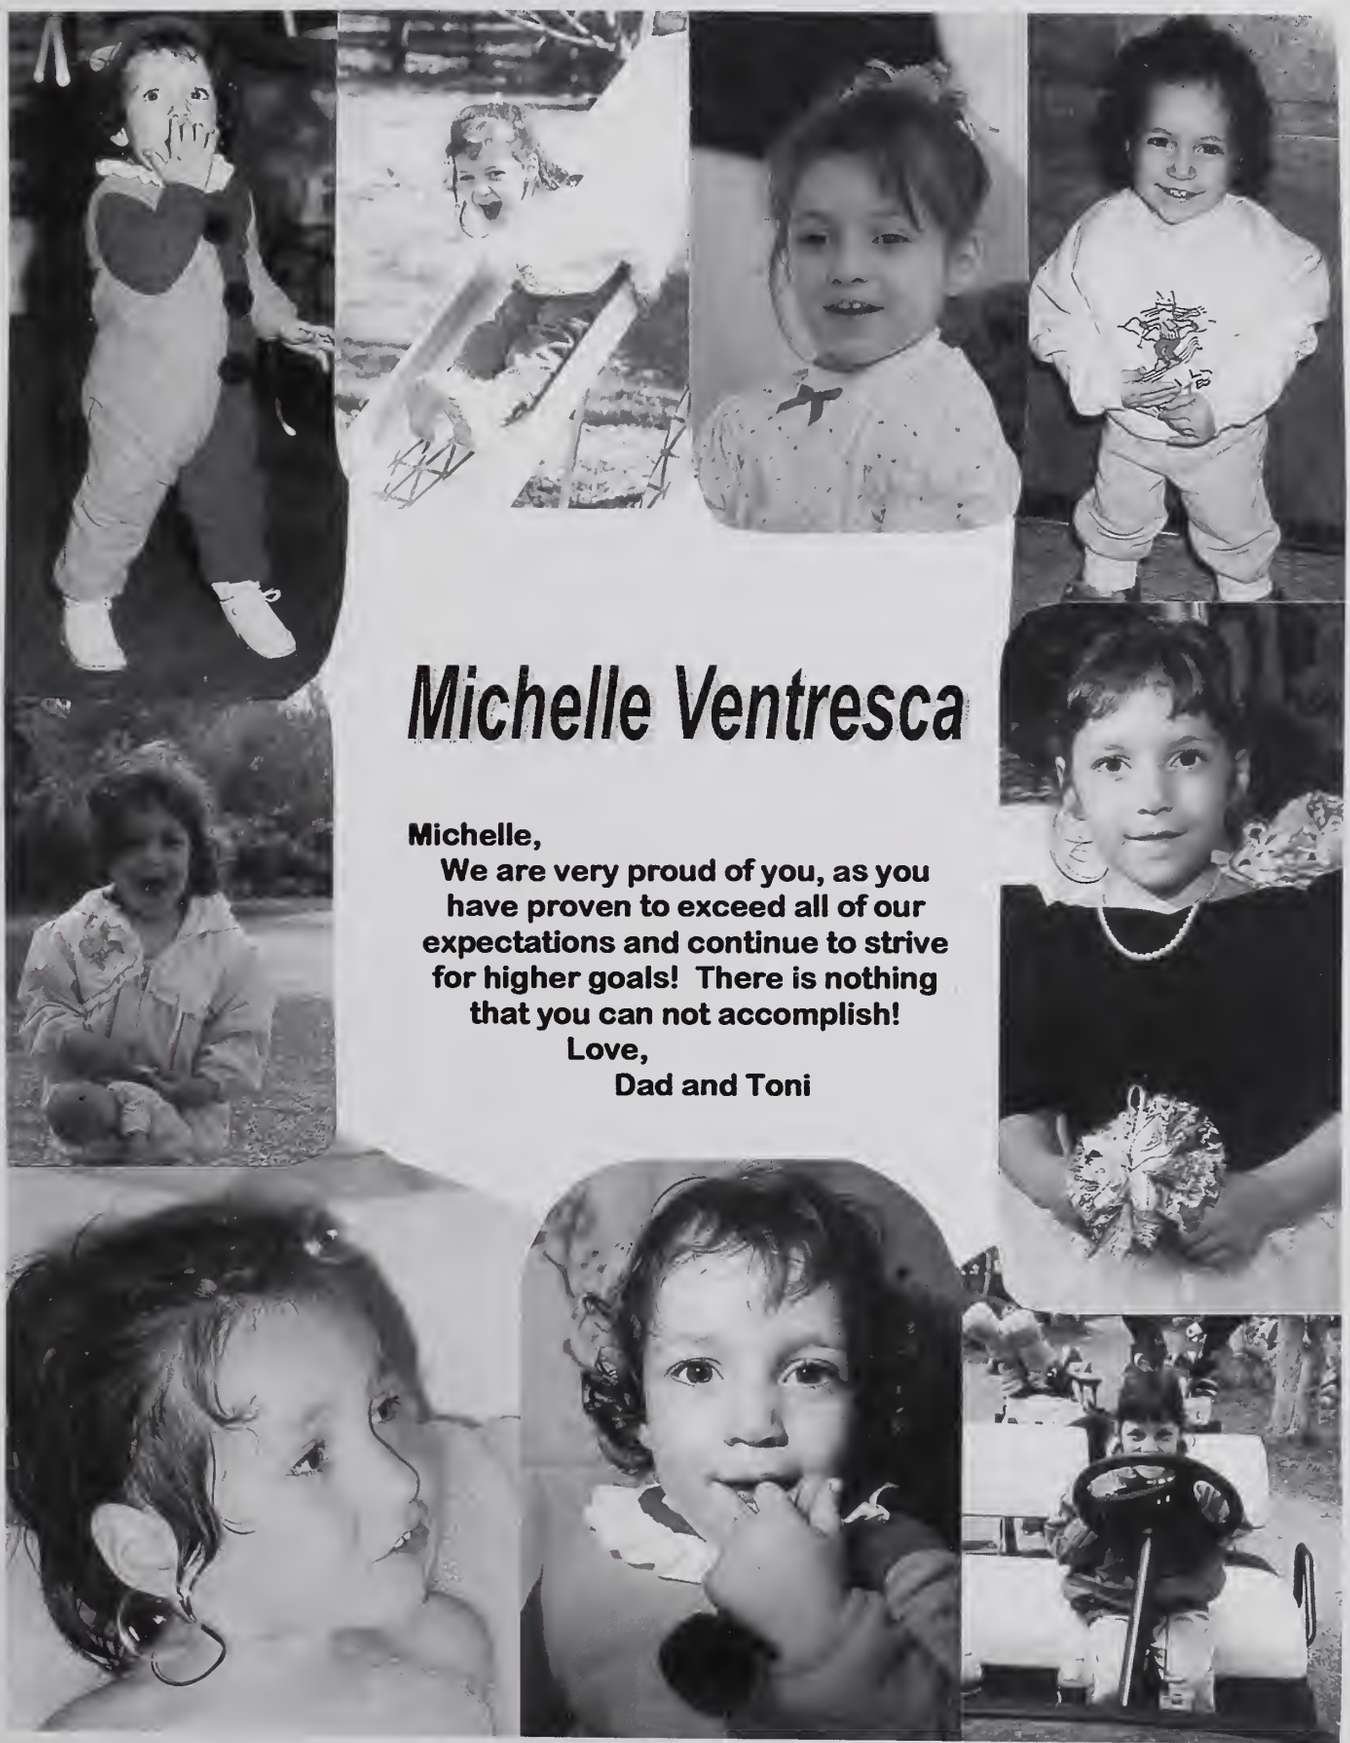

Love,
Mom, Dad, Ryan & Kevin

James and Emily Siciliano

James & Emily,
From the moment you entered our lives, we began preparing you for the world. We loved and nurtured you and did our best to teach you the values that you hold today. We held your hands as you took your first steps, then we watched you close as you ran. We dried your eyes when you cried and we celebrated all of your accomplishments.
You've both come so far in what seems like just a moment, and now it is time again to let go of your hands & watch you run. The tears we dry are now our own as we watch you graduate and go off to college. Your dreams and goals are right in front of you and we cheer you on as you go after them. Be happy in your life and live it to the fullest.
With all our love we'll watch you succeed.
Your very proud parents,
Marc & Suzanne

It has been a long 18 years, but if I could keep you home for 18 more I would do it all over again.
Your laugh and your smile and even your messy room too, are just some of the things I will miss about you!
Reach for the stars and you will go far...
We are all so proud of you
Oh yes, we are!!!
Love you much

Dear Members of the Class of 2006:

Congratulations on your graduation from Stoughton High School. I wish you well in your future, and I thank you for the many things you have contributed to making this school a better place. I want you to know that I have enjoyed being with you, whether in the hallways and the cafeteria, or at musical, drama or athletic events. Wherever SHS students have gone, we have received compliments about their intelligence, maturity and behavior. You have been fine representatives of your school, family, and community and I am proud to have been your Principal. I have every confidence that you will build on the foundation you have established in high school, and become the productive citizens that I know you will be.

Best of luck,
Philip Iacobacci
